

COMPANY OVERVIEW

Minneapolis-based Wagner SprayTech Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Wagner Holding, Inc., is a market leader in advanced paint applicators. It develops and markets a wide array of painting and decorating products used in home improvement, commercial painting and industrial fine finishing. They make it easier to prepare surfaces, apply paints and other coatings, and clean up after painting. Wagner supports its customers through innovation, high tech engineering, quality manufacturing and service. Follow Wagner on Facebook and Twitter.

SUPPORTING THE COMMUNITY

Wagner is a proud supporter and has a long history of giving back to the community. Wagner has been involved with annual donations to Toys For Tots and Interfaith Outreach. The Wagner Give-Back Program helps local charities in the Twin Cities.

WAGNER TODAY

Today, Wagner SprayTech Corp. is referred to as just Wagner to refute the implication of selling only spray equipment, as we are participating in the broader painting and decorating business as well.

We now have full research and development, engineering, manufacturing, and distribution capabilities. Wagner develops and markets a wide array of painting and decorating products. Our products and services are designed to make it easier for the end user to either prepare, apply or clean up painting tasks.

The technical and financial support obtained from Wagner has enabled the company to expand and become a market leader in the painting and decorating business around the world.
