

OUR MISSION

Born in Detroit, Shinola makes beautiful, enduring handcrafted goods that are built to be lived in, worn out and well loved.

Founded in 2011, our company operates an in-house watch and leather factory on the fifth floor of the historic Argonaut Building in Detroit, MI, where a team of artisans hand assemble luxury timepieces and craft premium leather straps. Through skilled training, we work to create opportunities for our team members and support the local workforce by partnering with legacy companies across the country to manufacture specialty items.

We deliver thoughtful craftsmanship, timeless design and spirited stories that inspire people to live well, with confidence, joy and in a style that is uniquely their own.

TEN YEARS OF QUALITY GOODS

Since designing and assembling our first watch—The Runwell—in Detroit in 2013, we have spent ten years building a modern American, design-driven, lifestyle brand through the reintroduction of domestic manufacturing, creating partnerships across multiple product categories, and building community at a scale. With quality as our top priority, we strive to deliver goods and experiences that will last a lifetime.

WHY BUILD A WATCH FACTORY IN DETROIT?

AMERICAN INNOVATION NEVER DIES, SOMETIMES YOU JUST HAVE TO PLUG IT BACK IN.

We wanted to make our products in the city that helped make America. We chose Detroit because we believed we could put down roots, grow, be challenged, and evolve here. We were born as a true manufacturing company, built not by the things we make but by the people who make them. In Detroit we don't need to look at our watches to know this is our time.

PRODUCTS & BRAND STRATEGY

Through a combination of craftsmanship, detailed design, and quality manufacturing processes, we bring products to market that are meant to be timelessly iconic with authenticity and integrity. Our range of products includes watches, leather goods, jewelry, clocks, and a wide range of lifestyle goods and accessories. Our category growth is rooted with strong manufacturing partners who align with our design principles and values.

We believe that an experience can be crafted, designed, and manufactured with story and character.
